

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

CONTACT: Wanda Davis, 267-688-1582, Wanda@julmanifoundation.org

Julmani Foundation Discusses Sentencing of Convicted Drunk Driving Killer of Tracy Imani Lynne Davis

WHO: Julmani Foundation

WHAT: Discusses Outcome of Sentencing of Judge Lerner of Convicted Drunk Driver Killer of Tracy Imani Lynne Davis and Tougher Penalties for Repeated Offenders

WHERE: Conversation Hall, Room 202 City Hall, Philadelphia, PA

WHEN: Monday, April 17, 2006

DETAILS: April 17, 2006 (Philadelphia, PA) In honor of April is Alcohol Awareness Month, the Julmani Foundation will join with elected officials, civic and community groups to discuss the importance of supporting the legislation to toughen penalties for and forfeiture of vehicles by repeated DUI offenses today from 4:15 PM – 5:00 PM at Conversation Hall, Room 202 City Hall, Philadelphia, PA. The Foundation will also discuss the outcome of today's sentencing by Judge Lerner of the repeated drunk driver who caused the fatal accident of Tracy Imani Lynne Davis on April 27, 2005.

Julmani Foundation story is a direct result of two devastating and life changing challenges that were 18 years apart in the same family. A mother (Julia Ann Davis) and daughter (Tracy Imani Lynne Davis) were vehicle homicide victims of drunk drivers. In both cases the drunken driver (under age 25) had a short hospital stay and they are walking today.

Julia Ann Davis, age 41, was the first Davis Family victim of vehicle homicide by a drunken driver on July 4, 1987. Eighteen years later, April 27, 2005 also at the age of 41, Tracy Imani Lynne Davis became the second Davis family member victim of vehicle homicide by a drunken driver. The Davis family and friends have been severely effected by these two murders. They are committed to see that drunk drivers don't get away with murder.

The Julmani Foundation will raise individual and media awareness about the effects of drunken driving and vehicle homicide on families. To learn more about the Foundation or to volunteer visit the website at www.julmanifoundation.org.

###